Parallel Parking Program To Be Followed On Main Streets

At noon Saturday, city officials will meet in the office of Auditor Lillian Young to open bids for parking meters.

Solicitor Joe W. Adkins said Wednesday that no bids had yet been submitted and that he expected most of them to come in the latter part of the week. After the bids have been opened, city officials will consider them for several days before awarding a contract to any company.

Council meeting Wednesday, November 5, probably will see a number of the meter representatives appear before Council to demonstrate their products. Already three meter men have shown meters at council meetings, some of whom probably will submit their bids before Saturday

Legislation which calls for meter installation on Main and Court Streets in the downtown area already has been completed, and advocates of the new parking program are anxious to see the meters installed before winter.

Parallel parking will be adopted on both Main and Court Streets under the new system. Parallel parking lines still have not been painted on either street, and members of the city's service and traffic departments maintain that the lines must be painted before the weather gets cold, since the paint will not dry in cold weather. Lining Court and Main Streets believe, since it will have to be done in fair weather and when there is a minimum of traffic on the streets. Traffic lines usually are painted Sunday mornings.

The ordinance carrying the specifications for the meters calls for their installation twenty feet apart. A motorist may park 12 minutes for one cent; twenty four minutes for 2 cents, thirty six minutes for three cents or an hour for the Corn Festival in 1942.

Three Pleas Being Heard in Common Pleas By District Men

The Fourth District Court of Appeals was hearing three cases in the Common Pleas Courtroom

They include the Andrew Mack Wright manslaughter case, the civil case of Mrs. David O. Fuller and the case of Noah A. Ernst against Weldon Heffner.

Andrew Mack Wright has been convicted of manslaughter and is free from jail under bond. The charge developed as the result of an auto wreck in which a Circleville couple, Millard Campbell and Catherine Stapleton, was killed in a collision with Wright's car on Route 56 southeast of the city. The Dayton motorist is appealing his case from Common Pleas Court where he was found guilty of second degree manslaughter.

Mrs. David O. Fuller of Cincincase with Ambrose E. Moul, Circleville Route 5, administrator of the estate of her late husband. Mrs. Fuller has taken exceptions to the final account in the settlement of the estate and is asking for a share in the property. Mr. Moul, in making the settlement, claims that in a separation agreement signed between Mrs. Fuller and her husband, she relinquished certain property rights and is not entitled to a full share in the pro-

. Soybean Loans Planned By AAA

A soybean loan program, designed to aid the orderly marketing of a 1941 crop stimulated to record proportions to meet defense needs, was announced Tuesday by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The soybean loan program, first offered under the Departments commodity credit program, will enable farmers to take out a loan on soybeans stored on the farm, and thus they may retain their crop for marketing at a later time. By providing a regular flow of soybeans to the mills all during the year it is hoped to avoid overcrowding the limited facilities of the crushing mills and the capacities of the commercial warehouses.

Indeed in some ways your automobile is safer than your home, as shown by the experiments at the Westinghouse high voltage laboratories when Dr. Gilbert D. McCann sat safely in a car that was bombarded with 3,000,000 volts of artificial lightning. The gas tank even presents no serious nazard, because its protected position is such that lightning can not Peak Reached in Autumn Autumn is the time of various reasons, when home accidents reach a peak. Fires begin to be lighted and match boxes are left around, and the children play with the matches.

House cleaning goes on and there are chores in the cellar, and small jobs of repair work, the eaves have to be cleaned, and all that means ladders, and ladders are contraptions of the devil. Some ladders are too short, others are too flimsy, and the result is falls and fractures and concussions and dozens of lesser troubles. The National Safety Council has published a "Safe Practices Pamphlet on Ladders," just to show how imminent the hazards are.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning The garage doors begin to be closed in the Autumn, and carbon monoxide poisoning from the exhaust of the car is a consequent hazard. Carbon monoxide poisoning is now the most widespread poison connected with human activity. It is produced by the in-complete burning of materials line and illuminating gas.

Carbon monoxide is treacherous because it has no smell, it doesn't even wake a person up at its insidious approach and the symptoms of paralysis may be on a person without any premonition. The treatment is to remove the victim to fresh air, supply artificial respiration immediately and indefinitely, aid circulation by rubbing the arms and legs and wrapping in warm blankets and call a doctor

Burning Leaves

The fires of burning leaves are pleasant aspect of the Fall scene, but do not permit a child to remain alone and poke a fire. Thirtyfive per cent of fatal burns occur in children. The hunting season and "unloaded guns" need only be mentioned.

Above the cries of all victims of these Autumn accidents is the universal wail-"I ought to have known better." Use that ounce of prevention to avoid accidents. Carelessness kills more people than ignorance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. L .: - "I recently read a treatise advising that proteins and carbohydrates should not be served at the same meal - for instance meat and potatoes are a bad combination. What is your opinion?"

Answer: My opinion is that this idea is utter nonsense. This country was founded and settled, the forests were cleared and the wilderness made to bloom by men and women who ate meat and potatoes on the same plate.

J. C. C .: - "Can anything be done for a varicocele? If so, what?" Answer: Varicocele is promptly relieved in 100 per cent of cases by a minor operation.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Dia". "Indigestion and Constipation". "Reducing and Gaining". "Infant Feeding", "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes". "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin".

ally in the supposed safety of their own homes than on the streets, the highways, in the waters or in industrial plants.

Indeed in some ways your automobile is safer than your home, as shown by the experiments at the Westinghouse high voltage laboratories when Dr. Gilbert D. McCann sat safely in a car that was bombarded with 3,000,000 volts of artificial lightning. The gas tank even presents no serious nazard, because its protected position is such that lightning can not

Peak Reached in Autumn mn is the time of year, for various reasons, when home accidents reach a peak. Fires begin to be lighted and match boxes are left around, and the children play with the matches.

House cleaning goes on and there are chores in the cellar, and small jobs of repair work, the eaves have to be cleaned, and all that means ladders, and ladders are contraptions of the devil. Some ladders are too short, others are too flimsy, and the result is falls and fractures and concussions and dozens of lesser troubles. The National Safety Council has published a "Safe Practices Pamphlet on Ladders," just to show how imminent the hazards are.

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning The garage doors begin to be closed in the Autumn, and carbon monoxide poisoning from the exhaust of the car is a consequent hazard. Carbon monoxide poisoning is now the most widespread poison connected with human activity. It is produced by the inline and illuminating gas.

Carbon monoxide is treacherous because it has no smell, it doesn't even wake a person up at its insidus approach and the symptoms of paralysis may be on a person without any premonition. The treatment is to remove the victim to fresh air, supply artificial respiration immediately and indefi-nitely, aid circulation by rubbing the arms and legs and wrapping in warm blankets and call a doctor.

Burning Leaves

The fires of burning leaves are leasant aspect of the Fall scene, ut do not permit a child to remain alone and poke a fire. Thirtyfive per cent of fatal burns occur n children. The hunting season and "unloaded guns" need only be mentioned.

Above the cries of all victims of these Autumn accidents is the universal wail—"I ought to have known better." Use that ounce of prevention to avoid accidents. Carelessness kills more people than ignorance.

Eighteen were seated at the long table which had white pottery vases of chrysanthemums and tall white candles for decorations. Halloween symbols marked the party appointments.

Mrs. B. T. Hedges, retiring president, opened the business session and received the closing reports before turning the meeting to Mrs. Shipley. Mrs. Hedges was presented a beautiful gift by the auxiliary members and honored with a year's paid up membership in recognition of her work during the last year.

Officers taking chairs in addition to Mrs. Hegele included Mrs. John Goodchild, vice president; Mrs. Charles Smith, second vice president; Mrs. Gladys Wiggins, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert Young, Mrs. Shipley also installed the executive board comprised of Mrs. James Stout, Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach and Mrs. Hedges, the last a member as retiring president.

Mrs. Dreisbach was named Child Welfare chairman by Mrs. Hegele who will announce her other appointments later.

SERIES BRINGS

Close Scores Mark Tilts Between Big Schools; Panthers Improve

By Irvin Scheibeck COLUMBUS. Oct. 29-Ohio State's football engagement with Pitt Saturday at Pittsburgh is the sixth in a series which has produced some great football over its comparatively brief span of exist-

In spite of Paul Brown's warning, backed up by that of his Scout Carrol Widdoes that the 1941 Panther has longer claws than his record indicates, Ohio State will go into this week's game as a pronounced favorite.

This was never true in the early days of the series, when Pitt, coached by Dr. John Bain Sutherland, was one of the national football powers year in and year out. Ohio fans still can recall with a shudder the first contest, back in 1929 when the Panthers humbled Ohio State 18 to 2, thanks to the powerful running of an elusive halfback, Tony Uansa. Played in a driving rain in Pittsburghs' stadium, the game served as a painful introduction to the Pitt powerhouse. In 1930 however, the tables were turned and with Wes Fesler as the spearhead, Ohio State evened the score with a 16-7 triumph in Ohio stadium Held To 0-0 Draw

There was no further activity until 1932 when an Ohio team which had been beaten the week before by Michigan surprised the world by holding a Panther team winch later went to the Rose Bowl, to a scoreless tie. In the fading moments of this contest, Pitt, thanks to two off-one-yard line but couldn't get the Tilt ball across in the face of one of the most savage goal line stands in Ohio State history. In 1936, Pitt's powerhouse was "razzle dazzle" with disastrous re sults to the latter, the Panthers scoring a 6 to 0 victory on a 30tremendous demonstration of power. Pitt didn't throw a single Widdoes, who has scouted the Panthers all season, points out that their defeats at the hands of both Minnesota and Michigan were due almost entirely to poor reserve strength and, in the Wolverine game particularly, bad kicking. > Encouraging items from the Oho State practice field Tuesday night were furnished by the return of Jack Graf to the squad and the news that Dick Fisher would be available today. SERIES BRINGS HARD CONTESTS

Close Scores Mark Tilts Between Big Schools; Panthers Improve

By Irvin Scheibeck COLUMBUS, Oct. 29-Ohio State's football engagement with Pitt Saturday at Pittsburgh is the sixth in a series which has produced some great football over its comparatively brief span of exist-

In spite of Paul Brown's warning, backed up by that of his Scout Carrol Widdoes that th 1941 Panther has longer claws than his record indicates, Ohio State will go into this week's game as a pronounced favorite. This was never true in the ear-ly days of the series, when Pitt, coached by Dr. John Bain Sutherland, was one of the national football powers year in and year out. Ohio fans still can recall with a shudder the first contest, back in 1929 when the Panthers humbled Ohio State 18 to 2, thanks to the powerful running of an elusive halfback, Tony Uansa.

Played in a driving rain in Pittsburghs' stadium, the game served as a painful introduction to th Pitt powerhouse. In 1930 however, the tables were turned and with Wes Fesler as the spearhead, Ohio State evened the score with a 16-7 triumph in Ohio stadium Held To 0-0 Draw There was no further activity until 1932 when an Ohio team which had been beaten the week before by Michigan surprised the world by holding a Panther team

winch later went to the Rose

Bowl, to a scoreless tie. In the fading moments of this contest, Pitt, thanks to two offside penalties, had six shots at a touchdown from the Ohio State one-yard line but couldn't get the ball across in the face of one of the most savage goal line stands in Ohio State history.

In 1936, Pitt's powerhouse was

"razzle dazzle" with disastrous results to the latter, the Panthers scoring a 6 to 0 victory on a 30tremendous demonstration power. Pitt didn't throw a single pass in this game which marked guard, who did not play against are ready for 48 minutes of foot- the beginning of the end of Sch-Hillsboro would be in the starting ball, and so is Captain Don Valen- midt's sleight of hand football. tine who played two quarters Play in the series was not re-

Mufti in Italy

Officials Meet Saturday Afternoon To Receive Supplies. Orders

The Board of Elections office in the Court House began to assume an air of activity Wednesday as election officials prepared for voting next Tuesday.

Last minute preparations are being made for a big election throughout the county, with village officials, township officials and school board members to be selected. The mayor's race, the city tax levy and the school levy hold major interest in Circleville and election officials predict a large vote, providing the weather is favorable.

A total of 237 candidates is running in the various city and rural contests. The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 6:30 p. m.

Presiding judges of the various precincts and townships will come to the election board office Saturday afternoon for final instructions and to receive their ballots, flags and other materials.

The presiding judges are First Ward A, Clarence Stein; First Ward B, Harry W. Moore; First Ward C, Mack Parrett; First Ward D. William Weffler; Second Ward A, Mrs. S. O. Wolford; Second Ward B. M. A. Martindale: Third Ward A. C. E. Roof: Third Ward B. John Seimer; Fourth Ward A. H. H. Groce; Fourth Ward B. Mrs. Daisy Shelby; Fourth Ward C. E. E. McClarren; Circleville Township, Nelson F. Officials Meet Saturday Afternoon To Receive Supplies, Orders

The Board of Elections office in the Court House began to assume an air of activity Wednesday as election officials prepared for voting next Tuesday.

Last minute preparations are being made for a big election throughout the county, with village officials, township officials and school board members to be selected. The mayor's race, the city tax levy and the school levy hold major interest in Circleville and election officials predict a large vote, providing the weather is favorable.

A total of 237 candidates is running in the various city and rural contests. The polls will open at 6:30 a. m. and will close

Presiding judges of the various precincts and townships will come to the election board office Saturday afternoon for final instructions and to receive their ballots, flags and other materials.
